

TAG MAY SOLVE TRUNK MYSTERY

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—The trunk tag mystery was as deep as ever today, although the best detectives of the city have been at work on the case for more than thirty hours. John William Lewis, the missing man, was found in a case which will be another of the city's solved mysteries.

A strange feature was brought out when the police again searched the trunk at the home of James McLaughlin, who said that the trunk was found in his room. A number trunk almost on exact correspondence with the one in which the missing man was found, except that it contained no tag.

The trunk was found in a rooming house, and the police are now searching for the owner.

The first of these campaigns, issues of the Boston 1915 movement returned several thousand people who attended the six big Greater Boston rallies. At Ford Hall the speakers and their topics were: Dr. W. D. Howells, "The Negro in America"; Clinton Rogers Woodruff, "The City Rages"; At West Main Street, Dr. Richard C. Cabot spoke on "Mental Health Conditions"; and at the Jamaica Plain large audience heard Henry Abrahamson on "The Labor Movement in America." At the South End, Commissioner of Massachusetts, Edwin Murray, spoke on "The Laborer and His Own Day."

The South End rally had Parker Moon, Dr. W. D. Howells, and Dr. Richard C. Cabot as speakers. The South End rally was titled "Relations of Public Hygiene to Civil Liberties." The 1915 campaign was the last of the Boston 1915 movement. In the North End, Walter Moore, spoke on "Housing and Judgment."

HARVARD CONFIDENT OF VICTORY AS IT LINED UP AGAINST YALE BULLDOG TO-DAY

Crimson Sure It Will Down Ellis
In To-day's Big Battle by at Least 6 to 0.

Corbett shines in skin tuckle plays and in running in a broken field, and in this respect there is not a man on the Yak-eleven who can claim to be his equal. He has wonderful endurance also, which adds to his general worth.

His running-mate, Wendell, stands out without a peer in line plunging, Roll came to the ground, with a strong pull of legs

It is not nearly almost impossible to appease him, but even when tackled he is able to get away with a few yards without exciting apparently. Leslie is a consistent man in straight line plays, but his strength lies in his defensive play. He is every bit as good as the Crimson backfield are exceptional strong men in this department, but of these also their Ell brethren are at least being regarded.

Leslie is a consistent man in straight line plays, but he lacks the speed or the ability to shake off tacklers, which seems to be the case with all the players.

Castro, Daily, the first man on the Yale team, is a better man in executing line plays, such as the line, but he lacks the speed or ability to shake off tacklers, which seems to be the case with all the players.
